ISSUES

Growing Main Street

Growing main street businesses – the job creators of America – is Sunder Ramani's specialty and passion. We have the entrepreneurs, the universities, the innovation and the workforce to make it happen, but Californians need a government that doesn't stand in the way of success. Overregulation has been smothering business for too long. Time is up, and we don't have another second to spare. Sunder will work to remove barriers for small businesses so that they may grow and create jobs. Bottom line: we need to empower individuals by cutting taxes and encouraging small businesses to innovate.

Less Regulation

California's problem isn't that we don't have enough laws – California's problem is that we have too many burdensome laws and regulations. We need to get out of the way of those who will provide the jobs of tomorrow to the talent pool of the discouraged unemployed, especially our children. As a small business owner who has seen firsthand the difficulties this state imposes on job creators, Sunder Ramani will fight to create and keep jobs – in California!

Better Education

For years, politicians have talked about fixing our schools, yet there have not been any improvements despite billions of dollars being spent. We need action now. Sunder understands that teachers play a significant role in our children's lives. Actively participating in his two children's education, he has witnessed firsthand the impact of caring and dedicated teachers. Sunder believes financial resources to educate our children should be in the hands of those that know them best – the teachers. Teachers first – and not the bloated bureaucracy in Sacramento. He will work to return local control to schools so that principals, teachers, and families can work together to make our schools better. Our economic future requires that we invest in education to prepare future generations to tackle the problems of tomorrow. Failing to make that investment is not an option.
